

Proposed changes to MRPC 1.5

8/24/2011

It is my understanding that MRPC stands for Michigan Rules of Professional Conduct. The conduct of officers of the court, attorneys and people who work for them. Quite frankly, this sounds like someone writing a contract. Doesn't contract law already deal with this? Besides, why are percentages and costs spelled out? Maybe twenty-four percent is a better number for part of an award from an external attorney. Who comes up with this clutter?

Thank you for your time.

A concerned citizen new to the comment process

Allison Isbey
Roseville, Michigan