Pay-in-Lane Accepts Only Credit Card Payments (No Cash!)

Paying for Parking

When leaving, visitors may make payment (the rate is $1.00/hour, with a daily maximum of $8.00) from their vehicles at the pay-in-lane machine as they exit the Hall of Justice visitor lot.

- Visitors who will pay with a credit/debit card will simply re-swipe the card to calculate their parking time and choose the option to charge it to the card.
- Visitors who will pay with a validation (voucher) -- those who attended a Michigan Supreme Court- or State Court Administrative Office-sponsored seminar, training, or meeting -- must first re-swipe their credit/debit card to calculate their parking time and then choose the option to pay with the validation (voucher). Note that the voucher consists of a QR code on a piece of paper that must be scanned to exit. This QR code is a one-time use only, so you may discard it after you exit.

If Visitor Parking Is Full

In the event that the lot is full, continue east on Allegan to Pine Street. Turn right (south) on Pine and proceed one block to Kalamazoo Street. Turn right (west) on Kalamazoo and enter the parking lot behind the Michigan Library and Historical Center. The same parking system has been implemented for this lot.

HOJ Handicap Parking

To access handicap parking for the Hall of Justice, enter the East underground parking ramp signed Motor Pool Parking off Ottawa Street, between Butler Street and Martin Luther King (MLK) Boulevard.

There is a call box (intercom) at the bottom of the ramp that will ring to the State of Michigan Customer Service Center and you will be asked for your name, who you are visiting, your contact in the building, and if you require a wheelchair or other assistance. Hall of Justice security staff will be notified of your arrival and will assist you, if needed.

After parking in the underground ramp in an identified handicap parking space, take the elevator to the "M" mezzanine level and use the covered colonnade ramp to get to the front entrance of the Hall of Justice.
